

Addressing Health Workforce Shortages Now and in the Future

Virtual Agenda
October 11, 2023

9:00am–9:15 am

WELCOME

David Armstrong, PhD, Health Workforce Technical Assistance Center, University at Albany's Center for Health Workforce Studies

Michelle Washko, PhD, National Center for Health Workforce Analysis, Health Resources and Services Administration

9:15am–10:45am

SESSION 1: Health Career Pathways – What's Working?

How can we expand pathways into the health workforce? Many professions are struggling with what their career path is, where it leads, and its impact on access to care. This session will describe several very different health career paths—some that are successful and some that still face significant challenges.

Moderator: Clese Erikson, MPA, GW Health Workforce Research Center, George Washington University

Presenters:

Bianca Frogner, PhD, Allied Health Workforce Research Center, University of Washington's Center for Health Workforce Studies
Not All Pathways are Clear: Challenges and Opportunities for the Pharmacy and Clinical Lab Workforces

Lisa de Saxe Zerden, MSW, PhD, Behavioral Health Workforce Research Center, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
Diversifying the Behavioral Health Workforce: Supporting Students Earlier in the Educational Pathway

Simona Surdu, MD, PhD, Oral Health Workforce Research Center, University at Albany's Center for Health Workforce Studies
Impacts of Improving Gender Diversity in Dentistry

JP Leider, PhD, Consortium for Workforce Research in Public Health, University of Minnesota
Calculating Supply of Public Health Workers Through Geospatial Analysis of Degree Conferrals at Postsecondary Institutions

10:45am–11:00am

BREAK

11:00am–12:30pm

SESSION 2: Reducing Health Workforce Turnover in a Complex Health Care Environment

Workforce shortages, burnout, and inadequate wages for some professions make it increasingly difficult to retain qualified healthcare workers. This round table discussion will explore strategies to reduce health workforce turnover and encourage retention. What are the most pressing issues? What's working? How can research help inform these decisions?

Moderator: Laura Wagner, PhD, RN, FAAN, UCSF Health Workforce Research Center on Long Term Care, University of California - San Francisco

Panelists:

Susan Chapman, PhD, MPH, RN, FAAN, UCSF Health Workforce Research Center on Long Term Care, University of California - San Francisco

Erin Fraher, PhD, MPP, Carolina Health Workforce Research Center, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Bianca Frogner, PhD, Health Equity Workforce Research Center, University of Washington's Center for Health Workforce Studies

Patricia (Polly) Pittman, PhD, FAAN, GW Health Workforce Research Center, George Washington University

Not currently receiving our emails? Sign up HERE

Not familiar with HWRCs?
READ our annual report that captures the work produced by all 9 health workforce research centers

VISIT the HWTAC website:

- View the latest HWRC research
- Sign up for webinars
- Watch tutorials

